Accepting Script Permissions

The scripts are optional, if you don't want to use the scripts, you can simply enter your cards in the order you wish.

The card sorting buttons operate with a script. When you first click the buttons, Google will show a dialog box. In order to use the card sorting buttons, you first need to accept the permissions in the dialog box. Click Continue.

Then Google will ask you which account you want to use, then ask you to allow the permissions for the script.

The script only works on this template and cannot read data from any other documents in your drive.

Once you accept permissions, you can click the buttons to sort the cards.
